

BOMBARDMENT OF SUMTER.

PROGRESS OF THE BATTLE.

Barracks at Sumter Set on Fire.

War Fleet Unable to Render Assistance.

TERRIBLE EFFECTS OF THE BATTERIES.

Unconditional Surrender of Sumter.

DEPARTURE OF MAJ. ANDERSON FOR N. YORK.

RECAPITULATION OF CHARLESTON.

THE SECOND DAY.

The Bombardment Resumes—The Battle

Continues—Fort Sumter Bombed on Fire.

Charleston, April 13, A. M.—The battle #### was resumed this morning in earnest, and #### the cannonading is now going on furiously

from all points, both from the Federal fleet

and the batteries along the coast.

The batteries at Sumter are on fire!

Wilmington, N. C., April 13.—We learn

from Charleston that Fort Sumter was again

attacked at daylight this morning, and the #### fight is more intense than ever. The #### cannonading is so severe outside that the #### fleet is unable to enter the harbor.

The Federal fleet at Halfway—Signalling

Station at Halfway—Charleston, April 13,

A. M.—Fort Sumter commenced firing at #### 9 o'clock this morning, and seems to be #### greatly disabled.

The battery on Cumming's Point does

Sumter great damage. At 9 o'clock this #### morning a dense smoke poured out from #### Fort Sumter, and the smoke from the #### fleet, signalling station to the fleet.

Shells from Morris Island and the fleet

fall into Anderson's stronghold thick and #### fast. They can be seen in their course from #### Charleston battery.

The ships have not yet opened fire.

Explosion at Fort Sumter—An explosion

has occurred at Sumter. A dense volume #### of smoke was seen suddenly to rise from #### the fort.

Major Anderson has ordered his fire for #### about an hour. His flag is still up.

It is thought the officers' quarters in #### the fort are on fire.

Sumter is still burning. There have just #### been two explosions at Sumter.

The first explosion occurred at Fort Moultrie

is divided between Fort Sumter and the #### ships of war.

The breach made in Sumter is on the side

opposite to Cumming's Point. Two of its #### port holes are knocked into one, and the #### water from the sea is coming in.

Three vessels, one of them a large sized #### steamer, are over the bar, and seem to be #### preparing to participate in the conflict.

Charleston, April 13th.—The batteries on #### Sullivan's Island, Cumming's Point and

Sumter's battery are pouring shot and shell

into Sumter.

Anderson does not return the fire.

The ships in the offing have not yet aided

Fort Sumter, and it is thought now to be #### too late for them to come over the bar as #### the tide is ebbing.

The harbor is a sheet of flame.—Charleston,

12 o'clock, noon.—The ships in the #### offing appear to be quietly at anchor. They #### do not seem to have fired a gun.

The entire roofs of Major Anderson's

barracks are one continuous fire.

Shells from Cumming's Point and Fort

Moultrie are bursting in and over Fort

Sumter in quick succession.

The Federal flag still waves.

Major Anderson appears to be occupied

only in putting out the fires. He now #### seems to be looking for a chance to strike his #### gun.

Anderson's Men Engaged in Suppressing

the Fires.—Charleston, April 13.—Fort

Sumter is undoubtedly on fire. The flames

are rising and spreading in every direction.

Anderson's men are passing up buckets #### of water to extinguish the flames. The #### fort is scarcely discernible for the thick

cloud of smoke that fills it.

The men on the walls are now objects of #### the fire of the batteries on Morris Island.

With a good glass the hulls can be seen

skipping the water and striking the unpro

tectured raft. Great havoc is created among #### the poor fellows.

It is surmised that Major Anderson is #### gradually blowing up the fort. He now

seems to be a gun.

12:25 P. M.—The flames are now bursting #### from all the port holes of Fort Sumter. Its #### destruction is inevitable.

Information, deemed to be reliable, states

that up to 10 o'clock today no shot at Fort

Moultrie had been fired.

Eleven shots penetrated the floating bat #### tery below the water line.

The few shots which were fired from Sum

ter early this morning knocked the bricks

from the chimneys of the batteries at #### Fort Moultrie like chaff before a whirl

wind.

It would seem that Major Anderson's only

hope is to hold out for aid from the ships

of war.

Two of the Federal steamers are now #### making in towards Morris Island with the #### view of landing troops to silence the bat #### teries there.

Movement of the War Fleet.—Charleston,

April 13.—1:30 P. M.—Four vessels—two of #### them large steamers and two smaller ones—

have just arrived from the harbor.

The larger appears to be belonging #### to Morris Island. The smaller have nearly #### submerged in Sumter, but Major Anderson

does not fire any guns just now.

General Beauregard left the fort just #### now in a small launch. The ex #### citement is increasing. If anything

I have just received letter from S. S. Bof

leton, dated Moultrie, at 6 o'clock this #### morning. He says that no man was killed or #### wounded. The iron battery had been #### disabled, but the rifled battery was still #### doing execution to Fort Sumter. They #### were all aimed into Major Anderson's

port holes. Three of Sumter's batteries #### were disabled—one of them was a ten

inch columbiad. A corper was knocked off

the walls.

The steamers Water Witch, the Harriet

Lane is no doubt meant. The Harriet

Pawnee are thought to have been the three #### largest vessels seen in the offing.

The Flag at Sumter Still Up.—Another

correspondent says the bombardment is #### growing more intense. The flag at #### Sumter and the Confederate flag float

over the walls. None of the garrison are #### hurt.

Port Sumter Unconditionally Surrendered.—The

flag at Sumter has been unconditionally

surrendered. The news has just reached

the city. Ex-Senator Chesnut, Ex-Gov

Manning and Wm. P. Miles have just #### arrived with the tidings, and are being #### followed by a dense crowd of people.

The Federal flag was shot away by the #### Palmetto Guards at Morris Island. In all

some 2,000 shots were fired at the fort.

It is still declared that no Carolinians

have been hurt.

Major Anderson and his men, under

gun, were conveyed by boats to Morris

Island.

The bells are now ringing out a merry

ring, and one people are engaged in every #### kind of merriment.

It is estimated that there are nine thou #### sand men under arms on the island and in #### the neighborhood.

General Beauregard with two aids

has just arrived from Fort Sumter, and #### will report to the city. The officers #### of the fort were wounded.

The fort will be taken possession of to #### day by the Confederate troops.

Lost Wooden, who is a prisoner here

described as most thrilling and affecting.

Major Anderson, who had been separated

from his garrison, and left the fort this #### morning with them to go on board the

Isabel, where he is now waiting for the tide

to cross the bar.

The Fire at Sumter—Exciting Scenes.—

Only One Dollar Each!
10,000 BEAUTIFUL STEEL PLATE ENGRAVINGS OF THE LORD'S PRAYER FOR SALE.—VALUABLE PROPERTY GIVEN AWAY!—The idea of representing the Lord's Prayer by engraving it on steel plates, and sending it out in such a manner as to produce at once a model of neatness and taste, was conceived and carried out by Messrs. the celebrated Bank Note Engraver, of New York City. It commences with exquisitely executed words of “Our Father,” and then follows in succession the other parts of the prayer, every phrase of which is engraved in the most elegant and tasteful manner. Near the bottom of the plate is a superbly executed head of OUR SAVIOR, and encircling the upper part of the engraving are ten angels, each bearing one of the TEN COMMANDMENTS. The engraving has received the most unqualified praise from the religious community, as there is nothing of a sectarian character about it, having been recommended by Clergymen of all denominations. As an ornament it is one of the most splendid ever published in this country, and is destined to take the place of a poorer class of engravings. The size of the plate is 2 1/2 by 3 1/2 inches, and is accompanied by the cheapest engraving ever offered in this country. Who that loves art—who delights to study a fine engraving—who that would receive the impressions which such a work is calculated to impart, would fail to secure a copy when the price is ONLY ONE DOLLAR, with the chance of securing for the sum, in addition, a permanent home of another valuable gift?

As a work of art, this valuable and beautiful engraving is worth more than the dollar asked for it, as will readily be acknowledged on an inspection of it; but the subscribers intend to make a Gift Distribution to purchasers of the engravings, of valuable presents, as follows: 1 House and Lot in York Borough. 2 Buggies. (Guthrie & Palmer's make warranted.) 1 Bowser. 2 Building Lots in York Borough. 1,000 Valuable Books. 50 bbls. Flour, (warranted.) 1,000 Gold-Fr. Frames to suit Engraving of the Lord's Prayer. 500 Steel Pl. Engravings Birth of Christ, Magnificent Looking Glasses. Gold and Silver Watch. All kinds of Jewelry, embracing Combs, Florence, Music, Gold Stone, &c., &c. A Gift worth from 50 cents to $500 on each engraving sold.

When the engravings are all sold a meeting of the subscribers will be held at Washington Hall, York, Pa., when the Gifts named above will be distributed in such manner as the purchasers may determine. The purchasers, selecting a committee of disinterested persons to make the awards in such manner as they may decide.

The proceeds from the favorable manner in which this Gift Enterprise has been received, and the number of engravings already sold, have been able to have the amount disbursed (by the 1st of July, ensuing, and when all are sold they will notify the purchasers and have the distribution of the Gifts proceeded with.

This engraving has received the commendation of the Reverend Clergy, our first citizens, and indeed of all classes, who enter into it with spirit.

STEAM LINE MILLS, CORNER OF WEST 10th and RAILROAD STREETS, NEAR THE FOUNDRY.—The subscriber, having been the Steam Mill of Mr. C. W. HOFFMAN, in this place, has had it thoroughly repaired, by placing in it the necessary machinery for grinding Lime-stone. The mill is now in operation and is ready to supply an abundant supply of useful Fertilizer. GROUND LIME-STONE is now conceded by those who have tested it, to be a much better Fertilizer than Rural Lime, or indeed any of the other Fertilizers generally applied to land. The following Certificate from Mr. DUNN, an extensive farmer, and highly respectable citizen of Adams county, will attest the truth of this assertion.

“I have been trying the Ground Lime-stone on my land for the last four years and find it to be a better fertilizer than the Rural Lime, and cheaper. It has given satisfaction in the first crop. PETER DEHL.”

Numerous other certificates of its character could be produced, but this is sufficient.

Fertilizers are requested to send in their orders and to give it a trial.

From the Household Journal.
THE LIGHTHOUSE BY THE SEA.
BY MRS. A. J. DICKINSON.

It stands upon a beetling crag—
The lighthouse grey and old;
And around its feet the seaweeds wrap
Their curls of green and gold.
And amid dark waves of the stormy sea,
Each crowned with a silver wreath,
Cast off their garlands, and how to thee,
Then sink to the depths beneath.

And thy forehead is kissed by the wheeling cloud,
When the storm goes eddying by;
But it cannot dim—it cannot shroud
The light of thy steady eye.
And the thunder bursts in thy very face,
And the lightnings round thee play,
But the darkest night sees thy brightest light,
Though it is never seen by day.

When the storm is loud and the night is dark,
And the angry waves dash high,
And the spectral clouds are hurrying fast,
O'er the face of the howling sky,
And the voice of the wind is high and loud,
As he sings in his savage glee—
How dear to the mariner, tempest-tossed,
Is the lighthouse by the sea!

In the hall of the tempest, a struggling light
Is seen in the murky sky;
And the hoarse and dimmed mariner where
Through the breakers and surf to fly,
Tiptoe, before him a path of light,
Rises from danger from shipwreck track;
And thanks arise in his grateful heart
For the lighthouse by the sea.

Oh! the sea of life is a dark, rough sea,
With many a hidden reef,
And many a foe, though its waters will,
Concealed like the midnight thief.
And our bark is fragile, and tempest-tossed,
And we know not where to flee;
How it cheers our hearts when we see the light
In the lighthouse by the sea!

When waves of sorrow and grief and pain
Are surging over the soul;
And the blinding mist of despair shuts out
The sight of the wished-for goal;
And the blast of adversity sweeps the soul
That is hurled into the sea;
How shall we escape from the treacherous rocks?
And wither for safety flee?

Oh! look aloft! Is there not a light Away up in the stormy sky?
How plain it shines where the paths of right
And the hoarse and dimmed mariner where
Through the breakers and surf to fly,
Tiptoe, before him a path of light,
Rises from danger from shipwreck track;
And thanks arise in his grateful heart
For the lighthouse by the sea!

“Agreed,” said the other.
They approached the house, and peeping into the window, saw the old woman upon her knees by the hearth, where a few embers were mouldering in the ashes. She was engaged in prayer. They listened and heard her offering an honest petition for bread. She was utterly destitute of bread.

In furtherance of their fun, one of them took the cottage and climbed softly up the roof, and the other down the chimney. As the broad light dawned on the hearth, they caught the lady's eye, and in the fullness of her heart she exclaimed:
“Thank the Lord! bless the Lord for his bounty.”
“But the Lord didn't send them,” shouted a voice from the chimney.
“Yes he did,” said she, undisturbedly; “the Lord sent them, and the Devil brought them.”

Horns.
Julius. Sam, I never shootin' yesterday in de woods, and I never seed sich woods in all my life. De trees was eight hundred foot high—so berry tick, too, so tick I think day want four foot apart—de trees wasn't.
Sam. De shootin' must have been good.
Julius. Yes, Sam, dat it was, de deer was berry plenty too, berry fat, and dey had sich monstrous horns—day was, let me see, I should say at least seventeen foot long—Yes, I should say dat.
Sam. Look a here, you ole digger; do you love I swaller dat lie whole? Seventeen foot?

Julius. Yes, Sam, I stick to dat. De horns was at least seventeen foot.
Sam. You say you oberstus lus, lying nigger. How de debble da get thro' de woods when de trees so tick.
Julius. [Unphussed.] Well, Sam, I was gwine to say dat I called at de nabars to ax them for something to drink.
Sam. Nebber mind dat. I ax you about de horns and de woods. Answer dat question, old circumlocution.
Julius. [Scratching his wool.] Did I say dat de trees was four foot and de horns seventeen foot?

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, April 9, 1861.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

GENTLEMEN: As the period fixed for the adjournment of the Legislature is rapidly approaching, I feel constrained by a sense of duty to call your attention to the condition of the military organization of the State. It is scarcely necessary to say more than that the militia system of the State, during a long period distinguished by the pursuits of peaceful industry exclusively, has become wholly inefficient, and the interference of the Legislature is required to remove its defects, and to render it useful and available to the public service. Many of our volunteer companies do not possess the number of men required by our military law, and steps should be forthwith taken to supply these deficiencies. There are numerous companies, too, that are without the necessary arms, and of the arms that are distributed, but few are provided with the more modern appliances to render them serviceable.

I recommend, therefore, that the Legislature make immediate provision for the removal of these capital defects; that arms be procured and distributed to those of our citizens who may enter into the military service of the State, and that steps be taken to change the guns already distributed, by the adoption of such well-known and tried improvements as will render them effective in the event of their employment in actual service. In this connection, I recommend the establishment of a Military Bureau at the capital, and that the militia laws of the Commonwealth be so modified and amended as to impart to the military organization of the State the vitality and energy essential to its practical value and usefulness.

Precautions such as I have suggested are wise and proper at all times in a government like ours. But especially and momentously so in the present condition of the country, in which the condition of public affairs outside the limits, yet of ineluctable consequence to the people and demanding the gravest attention of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, invest the subject to which your action is invited by this communication with extraordinary interest and importance. We cannot be irresponsible to the fact that serious jealousies and divisions distract the public mind, and that in the present emergency, the peace of the country is not the safety of the government itself is endangered.

Military organizations of a formidable character, which seem not to be demanded by any existing public exigency, have been formed in certain of the States. On whatever pretext these extraordinary military preparations may have been made, no purpose that may contemplate resistance to the enforcement of the laws will meet sympathy or encouragement from the people of this Commonwealth.

Pennsylvania yields to no State in her respect for, and her willingness to protect, by all lawful guarantees, the constitutional rights and constitutional independence of her sister States, nor in fidelity to that constitutional union whose unexampled benefits have been showered alike upon herself and them. The most exalted public policy, and the clearest obligations of truth and justice, therefore, admonish us, in the existing deplorable and dangerous crisis of affairs, that our militia system should receive from the Legislature that prompt action which public exigencies, either of the State or of the Nation, may appear to demand, and which may seem in your wisdom best adapted to preserve and secure to the people of Pennsylvania and the Union, the blessings of peace and the integrity and stability of our unrivaled constitutional government.

The Government of this great State was established by its illustrious founder “in deeds of peace.” Our people have been trained and disciplined in these arts which lead to the promotion of their own moral and physical development and progress and with the highest regard for the rights of others have always cultivated fraternal relations with the people of all the States, and to the Congress and the Union, and always recognizing the spirit of concession and compromise that underlies the foundation of the Government. Pennsylvania offers no counsel and takes no action in the nature of a menace. Her desire is for peace, and her object the preservation of the personal and political rights of citizens, of the true sovereignty of States, and the supremacy of law and order. Animated by these sentiments, and including an earnest hope of the speedy restoration of those harmonious and friendly relations between the various members of this confederacy which have brought our beloved country to a condition of unequalled power and prosperity, I commit the grave subject of this communication to your deliberation. (Signed) A. G. CURTIS.

An Act for the Better Organization of the Militia of the Commonwealth.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, etc., That the grand staff of the Militia of this Commonwealth shall, in addition to the commander-in-chief, who shall have one aid for each division, be appointed and commissioned by him during his term of office, consist of one adjutant general, who, until otherwise ordered, shall act as paymaster general, inspector general, and judge advocate, one commissary general, and one quartermaster general, who shall each be of the rank of lieutenant colonel, and who shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, upon the passage of this act, and to hold their commissions during his pleasure; and they shall each give security in the sum of $20,000.

SECTION 2. That the adjutant general shall receive a salary of five hundred dollars per annum, and in addition three dollars per day when actually engaged in the service of the State; the quartermaster general and commissary general shall each receive five dollars per day when actually engaged in the service of the State. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to prepare the room formerly occupied by the canal commissioners, in the Capitol, for the use of the officers before named, who shall be allowed one clerk, at a salary of one thousand dollars per annum, to be appointed by the adjutant general.

SECTION 3. It shall be the duty of the officers before named to proceed at once to the thorough organization of the militia of the State, and the adjutant general shall keep a complete and correct record of all the organized volunteer companies of the State, including the number of efficient men in each, and the number and quality of their arms and equipments, and the captain of each company shall make monthly returns of the same to the adjutant general. And should the President of the United States at any time make a requisition for part of the militia of this State for the public service, the adjutant general shall take the most prompt measures for supplying the number of men required, and having them marched to the place of rendezvous, and shall call them by divisions, brigades, regiments, or single companies, as directed by the commander-in-chief.

SECTION 4. That for the purpose of organizing, equipping, and arming the militia of this State, the sum of five hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, be, and the same is hereby, appropriated, to be paid by the State Treasurer out of any money not otherwise appropriated.

SECTION 5. That should the ordinary revenues of the State not be realized in time to meet the expenditures that may be incurred under the provisions of this act, the Governor is hereby authorized and empowered to anticipate the excess receipt to the treasury above the ordinary expenditures, including the interest on the public debt, by temporary loans, based on the faith of the Commonwealth, at a not over interest not exceeding six per centum. Such loans shall be negotiated by the Governor, at such times and in such amounts (not to exceed the amount appropriated) as the objects and purposes herebefore stated shall require. The certificates of loan shall be signed by the State Treasurer and countersigned by the Governor, and shall not be extended beyond the close of the next fiscal year, to which period the excess receipt above the ordinary expenditures are hereby pledged for the payment of such loans.

SECTION 6. That the adjutant general, quartermaster general, and commissary general shall expend such amounts of the money hereby appropriated as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act. All such expenditure shall be made under the direction and by the advice and consent of the United States, and no bill shall be paid without being endorsed by him and afterwards settled in the usual manner by the Auditor General and State Treasurer, when the auditor general shall draw his warrant on the State Treasurer for the same.

SECTION 7. That so much of any laws as may be supplied by or conflict with the provisions of this act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Proclamation of the President Calling Out Seventy-five Thousand Men to Defend the Union—An Extra Session of Congress Convened.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The following proclamation has been put forth by the President, to be published to-morrow morning:

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.—
PROCLAMATION.
Whereas the laws of the United States have been for some time past and now are opposed, and the execution thereof obstructed in the States of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, by combinations too powerful to be suppressed by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings or by the powers vested in the marshals by law; now therefore, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, in virtue of the power in me vested by the constitution and laws, have thought fit to call forth, and hereby do call forth the militia of the several States of the Union to the aggregate number of seventy-five thousand, in order to suppress said combinations, and cause the laws to be duly executed.

The details for this object will be immediately communicated to the State authorities through the War Department. I appeal to all loyal citizens to favor, facilitate and aid this effort to maintain the honor, the integrity and the existence of our national Union, and the perpetuity of popular government, and to redress wrongs already long enough endured.

I deem it proper to say that the first service assigned to the forces hereby called forth will probably be to repress the rebellion in the States of the South, which have been seceded from the Union. And in every event the utmost care will be observed, consistently with the objects aforesaid, to avoid any devastation—any destruction of or interference with property, or any disturbance of peaceful citizens in any part of the country. And I hereby command the persons confined aforesaid to disperse, and retire peaceably to their respective abodes within twenty days from this date.

Deciding upon the present condition of public affairs presents an extraordinary occasion, I do hereby, in virtue of the power in me vested by the constitution, convene both Houses of Congress, Senators and Representatives are therefore summoned to assemble at their respective chambers, at twelve o'clock, noon, on Thursday, the 4th day of July next, and there to consider and determine such measures as in their wisdom and the public safety and interest may seem to demand.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this fifteenth day of April, in the year of our Lord 1861, and of the independence of the United States the eighty-fifth.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President.
WM. H. SEWELL, Secretary of State.

Lord Palmerston on the American Troubles.
Lord Palmerston's remarks relating to the United States are thus reported:

There is but one spot in the political horizon, the contemplation of which must inspire us with regret and uneasiness. I mean those convulsions which are now taking place among our cousins in North America, leading to a dissolution of the union of the formerly United States. It is not for us to say what ought to be, whether compromise ought to be made by which the Union may be maintained or whether it is best for the happiness of the sections that they should separate, and form respectively different associations and confederacies. But of this I am sure, every man who hears me, every British heart, will feel that it is our cordial wish, that whatever may be the ultimate result of the differences now prevailing, that result may be brought about by amicable adjustments, and that the world may be saved from the afflicting spectacle of seeing brothers armed against brothers, and parents against children, and of seeing that state of social happiness which has hitherto been the admiration of mankind, deformed by disputes; and a country which has been the scene of peace and industry, polluted by the effusion of blood. [Cheers.]

UNION MEETING.—In pursuance of a call issued on Tuesday morning, a large and enthusiastic meeting of the citizens of Gettysburg, irrespective of party differences, together with a large number of persons from the country who were in attendance at Court, assembled in the Court House on the evening of the same day, to give expression to their feelings in regard to their country in this hour of its peril. At an early hour the large Court Room was filled to its utmost capacity, attesting their fidelity to the Union, and their willingness to stand by its flag. On motion of Dr. E. G. Resolved, That this meeting has been called by the citizens of this State to give expression to their views and purposes in this emergency, therefore

Resolved, That humiliating as is the present distracted and perilous condition of the country, and however arduous may be the task, we will not allow ourselves to be deterred from the path of duty by the prospect of a Federal Fortress, protected by the Federal Flag, and surrounded by high officials, directing and controlling these movements, to invade and seize the Federal Capitol, constitute Rebellion and treason against the Government, and call for prompt and energetic action upon the part of all good citizens in defense of the Government and the National Union.

Resolved, That the expression of a firm determination to support it in all lawful efforts to maintain the honor, its dignity, and its existence; and in this determination it is our purpose to know the path, but fearlessly and boldly to tread the path, duty in defense of a Government in the most glorious and noble of all its duties, and in little more than three-fourths of a century we have risen to distinguished rank among the nations of the earth, and in whose continued preservation our dearest interests and most cherished hopes, as well as those of the civilized world, are deeply involved.

Resolved, That the gallant defense of Fort Sumter, which was the first blood shed in this war, amid the fearful cannonading of the batteries by which it was beleaguered, its refusal to strike the flag of its country until compelled by the exhaustion of its men, attest the qualities of a true soldier and patriot, and demand the grateful recognition of all true and loyal citizens.

On motion it was resolved that the following resolutions be published in all the papers of the Borough.

The following obligation was laid before the meeting and received a large number of signatures:

To give assurance to those who have, or may yet enroll themselves in the military Company now forming here, that while absent in the cause of their Country, their families will receive the protecting and providing care of the community, we, the undersigned citizens, hereby obligate ourselves to contribute to the Committee appointed on the 22nd inst. a sum of money of such sum (for the space of three months) as may be required to provision the needy families of the absent soldiers of our country.

The meeting was very ably addressed by Wm. A. DUNBAR, Esq., S. J. VANDEKORP, Esq., Prof. MILLER, Esq., A. BUEHLER, Esq., and C. PRESERVATION OF THE HAIR.—Some attention paid to this item of propriety would avoid much of the baldness so prevalent in this country. Dr. Bellingham, of London, has immortalized his name as the inventor of a "Stimulating Ointment," which could be as appropriate in preventing as in curing baldness. ## Mechanics—Mechanics, notwithstanding the fashion of the world be considered.

Art-craftsmen to put on airs and turn up noses at the idea of associating with them, are beginning to be valued at what they are worth, as all men should be, and if they do not attain position in society and in the world, it is not because they are mechanics. If they do not conduct themselves in a manner worthy of it they have no right to expect it. The learned professions are so crowded that it takes a man of more than ordinary talent to acquire anything more than a competency. Men are beginning to train their sons, and very properly, for other things beside law and medicine. And we find young men who have received the advantages of a liberal education turning their attention to mechanism, as more likely to secure their independence. That man shall work is a decree from heaven, and that man who works for a living is not entitled to as much respect as the man who gets a living without working for it, is an idea which, if it ever existed, is fast vanishing from the minds of men.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.—And for the speedy cure of the subjoined varieties of disease.

SUIFOLICA AND SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, SUCH AS TUMORS, ULCERS, SORES, Eruptions, PIMPLES, PUSTULES, BLIGHTED HAIR, AND ALL SKIN DISEASES.

Oakland, Ind., 6th June, 1860.

J. C. Ayer & Co. Gentles: I feel it my duty to acknowledge your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous affection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Eruptions on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and distressed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head, covered my scalp and ears with a scurf, which I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was rejoiced to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alternative for anything of the kind, and I tried it. I sent to Cincinnati and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful every mouth, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scurf, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully yours.
